F. D. R. Threatens Inflation

WASHINGTON — Proposals to repeal "deterent" taxes approached a White House showdown today. Conservative advocates of business reapproachment definitely were on the defense and threatened with defeat.

Chairman Pat Harrison, D., Miss., of the Senate Finance Committee and Rep. Joseph Cooper, D. Tenn., of the House Ways and Means Committee will confer with President Roosevelt on tax legislation today. Harrison has been a leader of those seeking tax revision.

Their White House conference and the volume of money received today in last-minute income tax payments will lead shortly to a decision whether Mr. Roosevelt will accept or oppose repeal of cherished New Deal levies.

Mr. Roosevelt avoided committing himself at yesterday's press conference on repeal of "business deterent" taxes suggested serious potential objections to change. Harrison, informed of the White House tax statement, remarked cryptically that it was "in thorough accordance with what I thought his plans were."

The evidence so far is inconclusive but without substantial promise fo rthose attempting to blast the corporate surplus and capital gains tax out of the revenue structure.

Sen. Walter F. George, D., Ga., of the Finance Committee said tax adjustment was the only major job Congress could do at this session. Social Security and National Labor Relations changes being too hot to handle. He favored a flat corporation income tax between 17 and 20 per cent.

Some business appeasement advocates appear pessimistic. Their economy hopes have collapsed with Mr. Roosevelt's insistence upon a $160,000,000 additional relief appropriation and the hard fact that there is not much opportunity for economy unless such emergency spending is drastically curtailed.

Mr. Roosevelt's casual defense of his $3,000,000,000 greenback power voted in 1933 also may be a part of today's recovery-economy picture. He told questioners he was not convinced that it should be repealed at this time, explaining that it was useful to have a club in the closet, changing the figure, he said, was like having food in the back of the cupboard against mother Hubbard's appearance. That gave rise to speculation whether atuhority to issue billions of paper money might be used if Congress' next session refused to raise the government's borrowing limit and federal expenses continued to exceed treasury income.

Doty Seeks Reelection

W. S. P. Doty, who has worked energetically for the welfare of the community the forty years that he has resided herein, has announced his candidacy for reelection as County Prosecuting Attorney.

Mr. Doty is a practicing lawyer, owns and operates a farm and is identified with farming interests. He is a man of considerable experience in public affairs, having served two terms in the state legislature, three terms as Mayor of Grenada, and is now serving his second term as County Prosecuting Attorney.

His record as a public servant is well-known to Grenada countians.

During his residence here, Mr. Doty has been a substantial citizen and taxpayer.

The Sentinel asks that the voters in the August Primary give his candidacy an impartial consideration.

Any man who allows his "business success" to injure the less fortunate is an unworthy citizen.

Hitler Killed Slovakia Gracefully

BERLIN—The last breaths of the Sovereign, Independent nation of Czechoslovakia were drawn while the German Reich was paying it full military honors.

Summoned to Berlin to hear the terms of Adolph Hitler, Emile Hacha last president of the Czech republic as created by Woodrow Wilson, was accorded each of the honors given the visiting head of a foreign state.

He was greeted at the railroad station by Hitler's personal representative and representatives of the foreign office. Taken to the Chancellry, he was escorted through the "Court of Honor" where Hitler's Elite guards were drawn up at attention. Drums rolled in salute.

Then Hacha met Hitler and several hours later it was announced that the remainder of his country was being taken under "the protection of the Reich and that Geramn troops were occupying it.

41 Get Mercy From Governor

PARCHMAN, Miss. — Forty-one convicts had been released today from the State prison here after they pleaded for mercy before Gov. Hugh White's "mercy court."

Sixty long-term convicts pleaded for clemency from the Governor but 19 were denied aid.

Three of the prisoners released had served a combined term of 80 years. A trusty who was released had been here 27 years.

DARK STREETS SAVE FUNDS, EXTRA POLICE CUT SAVING

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — The city biard of finance was delighted when Mayor John W. Murphy disclosed the city had saved more than $5,000 in electric light expenses because the hurricane wrecked so many street lamps.

The delight changed to gloom when the board learned from the police department more than that amount was spent for extra police protection for the darkened streets.

Claim 50 Guards Slain In First Clash With Hungary

BERLIN — Adolf Hitler is on his way to join German troops marching into the Czech state, the official news agency announced today.

PRAGUE — German troops, occupying the Czech Provinces in the name of Adolf Hitler, imposed an 8 p. m. curfew on Prague today, fearing an outburst of popular hatred.

The German troops carried riot guns in addition to their ordinary arms and were reported to have mounted machine guns at strategic points where they could command crowds.

BERLIN — Adolf Hitler, assuming a protectorate over the Czech Provinces of what had been Czechoslovakia, sent an army into them today and left Berlin to join it and share its triumph.

But it was a triumph tinged with potential tragedy.

Hitler's soldiers were booed and hissed as they entered Prague, the Czech capital.

Hitler also sent German troops into the new and "independent" state of Slovakia, amputated from Czechoslovalia, on the ground that premier Josef Tiso appealed for his aid against Polish troops who, it was said, had entered the country.

[illegible] tion of the Hlinka guards on receipt of reports that Hungarian troops, as well as Poles, were entering Slovak territory.

Hungary issued an ultimatum to the new state of Carptho-Ukrainia, third unit of the dismembered Czech-Slovak Republic demanding that its government surrender power by 2 p. m. EST.

Serious clashes were reported between Hungarian troops and members of the Carpatho-Ukrainian Separatist Sitch guards.

Two Slovaks were reported killed, two wounded and six captur-

BUCHAREST, Rumania — It was understood today that six classes of army reserves had been called up, as a precaution, in western Rumania, bordering on Hungary and Carpatho-Ukrainia.

WARSAW — Poland has recognized the new Slovak government De Jure as a legally constructed government, it was announced today.

BUDAPEST — Hungary sent an ultimatum to the new Carpatho-Ukrainian state today demanding that Augustine Voloshin, it premier, surrender his authority by 8 p. m.

Count Stephen Csaky, the Hungarian foreign minister, said in the note that the surrender was necessary to avoid bloodshed.

As the ultimatum was sent it was reported in private but reliable quarters that Hungarian troops had entered Chust, the Carpatho-Ukrainian capital.

Europe Sends Armies Into Slovakia

BRATISLAVA, Slovak — The powers of Central Europe sent armies into Slovakia and Carpatho-Ukrainia today in a dramatic race for dominance of the new states former from the Czechoslovak Republic.

German and Hungarian troops invaded Slovakia.

Hungary, already in Carpatho-Ukrainia, ordered the new independent government to surrender its power by 8 p. m. (2 p. m. EST).

Poland was reported without confirmation to have started troops into Slovakia.

Hungarians and Slovaks clashed in Slovak territory and two slovaks were killed, two wounded and six captured by Hungarian Irregulars.

It was reported that Carpatho-Ukrainian Sitch guardsmen had thrown back Hungarian troops with serious losses.

BRATISLAVA, Slovakia — Messages from Chusct, capital of Carpatho-Ukraine, reported today that 50 Ruthenian Sitch guards opposing Hungarian occupation had been killed or wounded in heavy fighting before noon. The guards, demanding independence and opposing the Hungarians, were said to number 12,000.

BRATISLAVA, Slovak —Troops of Germany, Hungary and Poland were reported today to be in a race to occupy strategic portions of the New Slovak state.

German troops unexpectedly entered Slovakia this morning.

It was said officially at Vienna that they entered in response to an appeal by Ferdinand Dircansky, foreign minister of the New Slovak government, for aid against Polish soldiers, who, it was asserted, had crossed the Slovak frontier.

Next came a report that Hungarian troops, who yesterday entered Carpatho-Ukrania to the east, had crossed the Slovak border and occupied Ober and Unter-Metzenseifen.

President Josef Tiso of the Czechoslovak state at once ordered general mobilization of the Hlinka guards, which is to form the nucleus of the new Slovak army.

All [illegible] up to the age of 40 years were ordered to join the colors.

German troops had not been expected to enter Slovakia.

As the announcement came that they had done so, it was asstered at Vienna that Ferdinand Durcansky, foreign minister of the New Slovak government, had appealed to Germany for aid against Polish troops who, it was asserted, soon afterward announced full recognition of the New Slovak state.

Then came the report that Hungarian troops, after occupying a portion of Carpatho-Ukrainia, had entered Slovakia and that Hungarian regulars had classed with Slovaks when they occupied Ober-Metzenseifen and Unter-Metzenseifen.

Premier Josef Tiso of the Slovak state mobilized the Separatist Hlinka guard, nucleus of his new army, to oppose the Hungarians. He called his cabinet into emergency session and closed banks for three days.

Hungary announced that in reprisal for frontier incidents last night in which Hungarian troops were attacked by "Czechs and Terrorists," Hungarian troops were marching into Carpatho-Ruthenia in three columns.

A report came from Chust, the Carpatho-Ukrainian capital, that 10,000 members of the Sitch Separatist guards, who want an absolutely independent country, had fought a big scale battle with Hungarians and thrown them back from 18 to 30 villages they had entered yesterday.

It was said that troops, presumably of the Czechoslovak army had reinforced the Sitch militia and that they were united against the Hungarians.

Chust dispatches said that artillery fire was audible north of Ungar (Usherod).

Previous dispatches regarding the Hungarians had mentioned regular troops as occupying Carpathe-Ukrainia. Today emphasis was put on the idea that the Hungarians were "irregulars."

There had been reports that Italy had put pressure on Hungary to retire its regular troops from Carpatho-Ukrainia.

POTTSVILLE, Pa. — Government agents who raided a whiskey still here said it was camouflaged as a coal breaker—which attracted little attention in this anthracite section of Pennsylvania.

Ole Miss News

UNIVERSITY, Miss. — Dr. Joseph J. Matthews, associate professor of history at the University of Mississippi, today announced the publication of a new book, "Egypt and the Formation of the Anglo-French Entente of 1904."

Published by the University of Pennsylvania Press, the 141-page volume makes a thorough study of the Anglo-French Entente and the influences which resulted in the formation of the alliance.

"The writer's idea," says Dr. Matthews in his preface to the book, "has been to use the Egyptian questions the central thread of the account, but at the same time to achieve a balanced perspective by showing its relationship to the various factors involved.

"The lack of such a study, together with the belief that the rale played by the Egyptian question in the development of the Entente has not received sufficient emphas_ is constitutes the chief justification for the present volume."

Dr. Matthews gives credit for assistance in the preparation of his work to Prof. William E. Lingelbach of the University of Pennsylvania, in whose seminar the study was begun; Dr. Dan H. Thomas of Temple University, who read the manuscript and offered many beneficial suggestions; Prof. E. M. Carroll of Duke University, who read an early draft of the work, and Dr. Dudley R. Hutcherson of the University of Mississippi English department, who gave many suggestions in regard to the style of the manuscript.

Dr. Matthews came to the University in September, 1936. Previously, he had taught at the University of Chattanooga, the University of Pennsylvania and Duke University.

He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1930 from Duke, and his master's degree the following year from the same institution. He was awarded his Ph. D. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1935.

Legislator, 24, Floor Leader

SANTA FE, N. M. — In June Montoya, Sandoval county Democrat, the New Mexico house of representatives boasts the youngest floor leader believed in any state legislature in the nation.

Montoya, now 24, is serving his second term, and fellow members of the house reported that he carried out his duties as floor leader with "notable efficiency and poise." During both terms as a representative he has been the "baby" of the legislature.

The Pitt of the New Mexico general assembly was born Sept. 24, 1915, in the village of Pena Blanca, N. M. He has been a resident of Barnalillo, near Albuquerque, for the last 14 years.

He was educated at St. Regis College in Denver and completed three years of work ta the Georgetown University law school in Washington. Since the present session of the legislature opened. Montoya has finished his academic work by correspondence and received his law degree. He took two days off from his legislative duties to pass the New Mexico bar examination successfully.

The young lawyer was accorded a formal resolution of congratulation the day he came back to lead his Democratic contingent through it legislative battles.

Montoya is national committeeman for the Young Democratic League in New Mexico and is associated with Democratic organizations in New Mexico and in Washington.

Legislative measures which he sponsored dealt chiefly with tax problems, including automobile and motor fuel taxes. He has been influential in steering through the house several bills relating to irrigation districts and administrative economy.

Little Business Behind Hopkins

AKRON, O. Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins will have the cooperation of the small business men of the United States if action is taken in line with the announced program of his Des Moines speech, according to a letter sent to the commerce secretary by DeWitt M. Emery, president of the National Small Business Men's Association.

"I agree wholeheartedly with everything you said and earnestly hope your words will soon be translated into action," wrote Emery. "The small business men you propose to help, do lack confidence and I know from my contracts with thousands of them scattered all over the country that they are in no mood to accept the unsupported statement of any government official at its face value. They've done that too many times, only to find that what followed did not square with what had been promised."

Business men are ready to cooperate in improving business and decreasing unemployment, but ask definite and concrete evidence of good faith on the part of the administration, Emery assured Hopkins.

Emery quoted from a report of the association a year ago to show that business men favor the announced Hopkins program.

"It should be evident to everyone," he wrote, "to the govern ment, to all business men, to labor and to farmers, that all their interests are basically identical. Labor cannot enjoy good times unless business—capital, if you wish—is earning a fair return on its investment. Capital cannot prosper while labor is unemployed. The thing we need to break the jam is, first, he restoration of confidence, then cooperation between the government, business, labor and the farmer."

Emery wrote that the small business men sought no special privileges and that "the small business man can and will make a larger contribution toward providing jobs than any other group just as soon as things are worked around to the point where business can go ahead."

Rebel Loss Is Half Italians

ROME — Italian army casualties in the Spanish Civil War up to February 13 totaled 14,352 officers and men killed, wounder, missing and made prisoner, it was announced today.

ThTis total did not include casualties of the Italian air force which operated extensively in behalf of the Nationalists.

The figures given included the entire civil war fro mthe first Italian participation to the Catalonian campaign. The Nationalists entered Barcelonia Jan. 26 and soon afterward the Italians were sent to rest camps.

Today's official anouncement gave the casualty total as:

Killed: 3,064—272 officers and 2,792 men.

Wounded: 10,708—889 officers and 9,819 men.

Missing: 214—6 officers and 208 men.

Our little town is building up some. The new brick store of Mr. Paul Hayden is nearing completion, a blacksmith shop on the lot near the barber shop is being built, and it is being rumored that we will have another drug store within the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Hayden spent Sunday in Eupora.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Curry Jr., visited with relatives in Maben Sunday.

Mrs. A. W. Hannah who has been confined to local hospital for several days has returned home much improved.

We are sorry indeed that Mr. S. E. Atkinson is not improving and his condition warranted a return to Grenada Hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hitt from Memphis visited the latter's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Will Carver Saturday and Sunday. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Ottis Goudelock.

Miss Elizabeth Perkins, one of our efficient teachers here spent the week-end with her home folks in Glen Allen.

Mrs. Avent and daughter, Mrs. Richard Hobson have returned from a several days visit in Greenwood.

Dr. A. S. Hill who has been confined to a hospital for more than a week, was brought home last Thursday. We are glad to state he is improving. We hope he will soon be able to be out on the street again.

Mr. G. O. Sanders, our splendid teacher, visited relatives in New Albany this week-end. He was accompanied by two young men from State College who have been doing practice teaching here.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Curle and two children from Belzoni were Sunday visitors here Sunday with Mr. Curle's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Curle.

The Methodist Missionary Society met at the Methodist parsonage Monday with ten members present. The Spiritual Life Group of the Society met at 2:15 at the parsonage with eight present.

The 15th chapter of John was read for meditation and prayer. Mrs. R. A. McCree, leader of this group. The 16th chapter was assigned for next Monday's meditation.

After this meeting, Mrs. E. D. Holcomb, Supt. Mission and Bible Study took charge and three chapters of the Mission Study book, "The Stewardship Life," were taught by Mesdames Holman, Dubard and Hayden.

The society will meet with Mrs. Elliott next Monday at 3 o'clock.

The Baptist Missionary Society met in the home of Mrs. J. T. Rice Monday with Mrs. Rice's daughter-in-law as hostess.

We are happy indeed to state that the daughter of Mrs. Ruby May Morgan is much improved. She was taken to the hospital several days ago with pneumonia.

NATURE ALSO FORGETS KIDNEYS

It's Danger Ahead if functional kidney disorders cause getting up nights, frequent or scanty flow, smarting or bachache. Often the kidneys need flushing as well as the bowels. Prompt removal of waste or excess acids may prevent serious trouble. For many years thousands have used Bukets to increase healthful kidney acticity. Your 25c back in 4 days if not pleased. A TELEPHONE MAN
Here, There, or Anywhere

FLOODS, in the Ohio River valley. Hurricane, in New England. Cyclone—fire—anywhere. And as soon as the disaster occurs you know that skilled telephone men will be pouring in to reestablish your vital telephone service. Because of Bell System standards, a good telephone man is good anywhere. He works with Bell standardized methods and tools, on standard equipment and apparatus, with which he is familiar on his daily job.

That is why, wherever there is a telephone job to do, he is prepared to work with maximum speed and efficiency, backed by all the experience and resources of an organization six decades strong in service. And though research will continue to change the telephone system, unchanged will be the fundamental American ideal of the telephone man, that you know as "The Spirit of Service."

SOUTH CAROLINA SEEKS THRIFTY DUTCH FARMERS

COLUMBUS, S. C. — Dutch farmers possessing sufficient capital to finance the undertaking will be aided in settling in the southern part of South Carolina by a non-profit corporation that has been chartered here.

William Montgomery Bennett of Charleston, S. C., one of the incorporators, said he understood there were approximately 200,000 farmers in Holland who were seeking a place to make their home.

Another incorporator of the Netherlands - Carolina association was D. G. Boissevain of Amsterdam, described as a leading broker by Bennett. Bennett said Boissevain visited South Carolina a year ago and was impressed by the similarity of water, soil and climatic conditions with those of Holland.

B. G. Club Meeting

The B. G. Club met with Misses Margaret and Anna Rose Finney Saturday night. The room was beautifully decorated with gorgeous spring flowers, lavishly displayed in lovely bowls. The room looked lovely, and we have Marguerite to thank, for she is interested in art and decorations.

The girls enjoyed playing "truth or consequences," during the meeting. This was enjoyed, chiefly because it is both educational and enlightening. Many interesting discoveries were made, but due to the lack of space, we will be unable to print it all here. Then the surprise of the evening was introduced by the hostesses. It was their cute little gray pet, but it had not been sufficiently tamed to perform to the best advantage.

The refreshments were, congealed salad with Ritz crackers, and sandwiches and ice tea. The club will meet with Virginia Griffic next Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Halsell, of Lexington, Miss., announce the arrival of a son, Lamar Houston, born Sunday morning, March 12, 1939 at the Holmes County Hospital, Lexington, Miss. Mrs. Halsell will be remembered as Miss Nannie Lou Lamon, daughter of Mr. Wallace Lamon, Grenada.

Grenada Hobby Show

What is your hobby? If you have a hobby or if you like to see other hobbies you will be interested in the Grenada Hobby Show.

The Fortnightly Club is interested in bringing some cultural entertainment to the children of Grenada. To bring any wotrhwhile entertainment we will have to have money. The Club is undertaking a serie sof projects to raise money for this purpose.

The first project will be a Hobby Show. Many people in our town and county have interesting hobbies, that others would like to see.

Whatever your hobby: old guns, model airplanes, ships, newspaper clippings, pictures, rocks, butterflies, match covers, crochet, knitting, cabinet work, painting, writing, stamps, glass or white elephants — all these and more we want tosee at the Hobby Show.

The Hobby Show will be at the Community House, March 23, from 3 p. m. until 6 p. m. Everybody will be provided with a table for their display.

Two cash prizes will be given in the adult division, and there will be a Junior prize fo rthe children's hobbies.

Chevrolet Body Is Safest Today

Chevrolet's body assemble is the safest the industry offers today, in the opinion of "Safety Engineering" Magazine, recognized national authority in the accident prevention field.

"The safest car of the 1939 line, in our opinion, is the Chevrolet," says the opening sentence of an article in which the entire industry's 1939 models are analyzed from the safety standpoint. The various manufacturers' offerings are scored on a chart accompanying the article, each being judged on 13 different points having to do with safety. Chevrolet was given 11 E's and two G's, the highest rating not only in its price class but among all cars built today.

The survey on which the report was based included such body features as driver's field of vision, rear vision, rear and front fenders, radiator ornament, door lock security, robe rack, padding on rear or front seat, dash knobs, protruding handles and hardware, accessibility of handbrake lever, and design of dome light. It did not deal with chassis features, and hence took no cognizance of such mechanical advances as vacuum gearshift with steering column control, new type knee action, shockproof steering, and hydraulic brakes, all of which Chevrolet is featuring in its current models.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL

Pleasant Service

One of our announced aims in the conduct of the Illinois Central System is to give pleasant service.

Our definition of pleasant service is friendly, personal attention to those who use our trains. It is a definition which, with occasional exceptions, our patrons tell us we live up to pretty well.

For the traveler our ideal of pleasant service includes help in planning trips; looking after baggage, comfortable seats and berths, good lighting, clean and attractive surroundings, fresh air warmed or cooled to need, good food, as little disturbance as possible.

For the shipper and receiver of freight our ideal of pleasant service includes prompt and accurate rate information, free pick-up and delivery of less-than-carload shipments, equipment designed to handle what there is to ship, painstaking loading and stowing, effective tracing, correct billing.

For both it includes smooth track, convenient schedules, expert handling of trains, on-time arrival and departure, plus the knowledge that every man on the railroad appreciates the patronage given.

HITLER OPENS NEW CZECH ATTACK

Growers Hostile

HAMMOND, La. — Night-riding and attempted arson directed at foes of James H. Morrison's Louisiana Farmers' Protective Union were reported in the strawberry belt today.

State Rep. Anzalone, a strawberry shipper and supporter of the rival growers' and shippers' cooperative, said at Independence that a group of unidentified men fired at least 40 shots last night while warning him.

He said the men stopped in front of his residence and shouted, "join the union or we'll get you!"

Fire chief Oscar Vitter of Ponchantoula said a fire was discovered last night in a truck parked behind the plant of Marion T. Fannaly, head of the Cooperative. Vitter reported night watchman J. W. Welch fired at several men but apparently struck none of them. The flames were extinguished quickly.

Vitter said he found two empty berry crates stuffed with kerosene-soaked paper under two other trucks. He believed the men had planned to ignite them before Welch made his rounds of the plant.

The Cooperative sold the only carload of berries last night at $3 a crate. Morrison's farmers, ordered by the "Kingfish of the strawberry belt" to withhold picking until today, peacefully picketed the Cooperative here and at Ponchatoula with signs reading: "Buy shoes for your children," "Ship Union" and "Keep away from the Scabs."

Morrison said he expected to ship three cars tonight. Fannalys group planned to ship one from here and another from its headquarters at Ponchatoula.

Three Grenadians In "Varsity Show"

UNIVERSITY, Miss.— Three Grenada students at the University of Mississippi will take prominent parts in the first anual Ole Miss "Varsity Show" when it is presented at the Orpheum Theatre in Memphis on March 17-18119. They are Gus Gerard, a sophomore in the College of Liberal Arts; Ernest Penn, a freshman in the School of Commerce and Business Administration; and Bobby Sharp, a freshman in the College of Liberal Arts.

Gerard, who plays trombone in the Ole Miss Band, is a member of Sigma Chi, national social fraternity. He is also a member of the Cardinal Club, sophomore service organiation, and of Phi Sigma Literary Society. Penn plays the drums in the band. Sharp, affiliated with Phi Delta Theta social fraternity, plays bass in the band.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs.. Harry Thayer of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Clissold of the same city were in Grenada Tuesday on way to points on the coast of Mississippi, Alabama and Florida.

Mr. Thayer and Mr. Clissold paid The Sentinel a short visit The former is an insurance executive in the Windy City and Mr. Clissold is publisher of the Baker's Helper, a trade journal, with 10.000 circulation.

Mr. Thayer said he had not been in Mississippi for a great many years and was impressed by the development and progress.

It was explained t him that much of the rapid progress was due to the program of the present governor, Hugh White.

Thinks 'Holey' Shoes Are Ugly

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — The motive for a legislative "plot" against the freedom of the feminine big toe was seen today in a statement by Rep. Gladys M. Stewart, the only legislator of record who ever wore toe-less and heel-less shoes.

"Personally," she said, "I think those 'holey' shoes are ugly, uncomfortable—and hard on hose. They not only hurt my feet but ran up my hosiery bill. So I stopped wearing them."

Rep. Stewart's stand, the opponents said 'pulled the wool" from the eyes of Missouri womanhood. They made a quick survey of the bill's sponsors and found a majority were family men who foot not only the shoe bill but the hosiery bill for one or more women.

She was speaking as the only woman in a legislature beseiged by indignant women who charged Rep. W. Randall Smart's bill to prohibit the sale of toeless and heel-less shoes was a challenge to their individual rights, the 32 admitted sponsors said it was intended to "preserve the beauty and heatlh" of feminine feet.

100 Students In The Troupe

UNIVERSITY, Miss. —Approximately 100 University of Mississippi students are included in the troupe of the Ole Miss Varsity Show, which opens a three day engagement at the Orpheum Theatre in Memphis Friday night.

The largest unit in the show is the Ole Miss band, composed of 60 pieces. The Mississippians, campus dance orchestra has 12 more and the dance rountines include 20 additional. Those taking part in the script and handling technical duties will run the figure well past the 100 mark.

Spring Flood Makes Many Homeless

JORDAN, Mont. — Half the population of this eastern Montana farming town was quartered in homes and municipal buildings on the elevated north side today, refugees from a spring flood which tore out a $60,000 earthen dam and inundated their homes and thousands of acres of farmland.

Some 500 refugees, forwarned late last night that the dam was breaking up despite efforts of CCC youths and volunteers to plug it with sandbags, had escaped from the low south side during three hours of wild excitement.

Conservation engineers, who constructed the dam last year as a flood control measure, ran through the residential south side warning that millions of gallons of water from the two-mile long lake behind the dam soon would be pouring through the town.

The residents, carrying children and what little household effects they could manage, fled. They were aided by townsfolk from the north side and by the CCC boys who dropped their sandbags and ran into town when the break appeared imminent.

As the last person was herded from the danger section, the water came swirling in four feet high and carrying mud and debris from the dam.

Nine Indicted In Cotton Loan Faud

JACKSON, Tenn. — Nine men were under federal indictments today on charges of fraud in connection with cotton loans from the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Those indicted were Leslie Vernon, S. B. Follis and Henry Conley, all of Alamo; C. C. Carter, of Maury City; J. C. Wright, and W E. Nichols, of Crockett county; R. E. McCallum of Chester county; J A. Head of Haywood county; and B. W. Harpole of Dyer county.

POLAND AND HUNGARY MAY BLOCK EASTERN SPREAD

WHILE ENGLAND AND FRANCE ARE SILENT

BULLETIN
LONDON—News reached well informed quarters here today that Polish armed forces were being made stronger in the Teschen area on the Czechoslovak frontier.

LONDON—Great Britain and France kept hands off today while Adolph Hoeler—on the first anniversary of the siezure of Austria—pushed a policy of "Divide and Rule in Ceatral Europe.

Although the question og German intervention in Czechoslovakia will be aired in debate in the House of Commons this afternoon, official circles made it clear here and in Paris that there would be no interference by the big Democracies such as led to the Munich conference during last year's Sudetenland crisis.

The two Democratic powers took the position that the four-power guarantee of the present frontiers of Czechoslovakia after the Munish conference has never actually gone into effect.

Furthermore, the question of Slovakian independence was officially viewed as an internal affair, despite the obvious inspiration of Nazi Germany.

Both Britain and France had virtually given Hitler free reign in central Europe and were too busy worrying about what Facist Italy plans in the Mediterranean to tie themselves up in a more remote conflict.

Greatest interest here centered on the reaction of Poland, Rumania and Hungary, the latter already having acted firmly in sending troops into a Czechoslovakian town—Oerhegyalja, in the province of Carpatho-Ukraine, Poland, which has frequently talked back in firm tones to the Nazis, had supported the Hungarian desire for annexation of Carpatho-Ukraine in order to give Hungary a common frontier with Poland and provide a buffer to German eastward thrusts toward the Soviet Ukraine.

BULLETIN
BRATISLAVA, Slovakia, Slovakia proclaimed its independence of Czechoslovakia and Josef Tiso was named president of a new Republic of Slovakia at a German-sponsored meeting of the Slovak parliament today.

"Absorptions" Now Inevitable

WARSAW, Poland — The "absor" of Carpatho-Ukraine, easternmost state of Czechoslovakia, by Hungary is now inevitable, authoritative Polish circles asserted today after the declaration of Slovakian independence.

At the same time, it was said officially that Poland has no territorial or other claims in Czechoslovakia or Carpatho-Ukraine since the annexation of the Teschen area after the Munich conference.

There is no possibility that Polish troops will occupy Czechoslovak territory, the official announcement said. (Reports abroad said Polish troops on the Czechoslovak frontier had been strongly reinforcde.)

Poland has strongly backed the claims of Hungary to Carpatho-Ukraine in order to give them a common frontier, but Germany has blocked that desire in the past.

BULLETIN
PRAGUE—The Czechoslovak cabinet resigned today it was officially announced.

By FREDERICK C. OECHSNER
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN — A high Slovak source said today that German troops were expected to occupy four Czechoslovak cities within 12 hours.

The informant asserted that German troops were expected to occupy Brno, center of the Czechoslovak arms industry, and that the same course probably would be followed as regards Pilsen and Mahrisch-Ostrau.

It was reported from Vienna that German troops probably would move into Czechoslovakia for an express highway connecting Austria and Germany through Czechoslovak territory. This would mean driving a corridor between Czech and Slovak areas.

The United Press Vienna Bureau reported that an unusually large number of German military airplanes had been flying over and near Vienna since dawn.

Germany had moved large numbers of gendarmes and police to the Czech and Slovak frontiers and all regular troop garrisons have been at full strength for weeks, according to reports from Vienna.

It was evident from all reports that Adolf Hitler was determined on a final solution of the "Czechoslovak problem."

A United Press Vienna dispatch said gendarmes and police, crack militarized units of well trained men, began to move up to the Czech and Slovak frontiers last night to reinforce frontier guards.

The Slovak source supplemented this by the report that German troops, under an apparently arranged plan, would move directly into Czech territory to "preserve order."

Brno, the center of the Czech arms industry, and Iglau, in southern Czecholslovakia, have large German minorities, and Nazi newspapers today erarged Czech "atrocities" against these Germans. Brno lies directly along the line of march between Vienna and Breslau which the German armies would have taken in September, but for the Munich conference, to cut off Bohemia and Moravia, the Czech areas, from Slovakia.

Some sources reported today that German troops would take this route today, to establish a corridor between Bohemia on the west and Moravia, Slovakia and Carpatho-Ukhaicia on the west.

The Nazi campaign against Czechoslovakia was proceeding exactly as had that before the Munich disarmament conference.

First newspapers and radio stations charged "atrocities" by Czechs, including "communists", against Germans.

Today the official Nazi news agency flashed a report from Troppau, in Sedeten territory ceded to Germany under the Munish agreement, that the "first 21" refugees had crossed the frontier into Germany.

Hitler seemed determined, in the belief of diplomatic quarters, to push through an immediate and drastic solution of the Czechoslovak problem. The problem was that despite its dismemberment Czechoslovakia had refused to put itself under German influence.

Officials refused information regarding Germany's intentions.

But for two weeks Nazis had been emphasizing that Germany if necessary would "punish Prague."

Memphis To Welcome First "Varsity Show"

UNIVERSITY, Miss. — Memphis is leaving nothing undone in welcoming the first annual Ole Miss "Varsity Show," which opens a three-day engagement at the Orpheum Theatre Friday night with one of the most gala premiers the Bluff City has seen in several years.

Cooperation and support have come from several civic and social organizations, but none with as much feeling as that received by the production from Mayor Watkins Overton and the entire city administration.

"Mephis is honored that the University of Mississippi has chosen our city for the presentation for the first tome for the Ole Miss Varsity Show at the Orpheum Theatre on March 17.

"As Mayor of Memphis it is a pleasure to extend an official welcome to the students of Ole Miss, and the thousands of citizens from our sister state of Mississippi, who are expected to attend the Ole Miss Varsity Show.

"I urge the citizens of Memphis to join with our neighbors in making the performances outstanding events in the history of our city."

Already plans have been released for big Varsity Show nights at the ballrooms of both downtown hotels. The Peabody's beautiful Skyway will compliment Ole Miss guests on Friday night, with the scene shifting to the Claridge's modernistic 20th Century Room on Saturday night.

Baseball Game Wednesday

On Wednesday, March 15th the Grenada High School baseball team will play the first game of the year. The game will begin at 3:30 p. m. and will be played with the Holcomb High School team. The game last season between these two teams was a close one and another good game is anticipated. The Holcomb boys discontinued basketball several weeks ago and got a jump on the other baseball teams by beginning baseball while they were still playing basketball. Reports from Holcomb indicate that the Holcomb boys expect to obtain revenge for last year's defeat. All Grenada baseball fans should come out to give the boys a good send-off. In years past Grenada has been a good baseball town. The only way baseball can come back into its old position as the Great American Sport, is for the baseball fans to lend encouragement to the high school players, since it is here that the development of baseball players begins.

It Must Not Be In Vain!

(An Editorial)

The corruption in Lee County has borne its inevitable and evil fruit in the critical wounding of the one outstanding law enforcement officer in thi scounyt, Pete Mitchell.

This has been coming on for some time. It was feared in the case of his predecessor and it struck in the case of this young man whose integrity and courage were such that his oath to uphold the laws was a compelling command to his conscience.

Pete Mitchell is our friend and were are honored by this association. We devoutly hope and pray that this splendid young man, who is the symbol, the shining star, of honesty in our local government, will recover.

But let us not forget that whether he recovers or not, the honest citizens of Lee County owe this young public servant a debt which can only be repaid by our determined effort to obliterate the cause of such a sacrifice.

Let us speak plainly and fairly: We want his assailant fairly tried and justice served. We believe that this will be done. But let us not forget that Sam Garrett is just a very small scar, an outward manifestation of the underlying and hidden rottenness in our local government. The trial, even the conviction, of one bootlegger will accomplish little in the long run. The basic abscess that is destroying the very vitals of our local government is the bringing of officers and the obvious unwillingness of duly elected officials to do their duty.

We call on every honest man in any way responsible for the enforcement of our laws to leave no stone unturned in CITY or COUNty to uncover the rottenness which has allowed conditions to develop to the point where such a dastardly crime culd be committed. This responsibility falls first, and foremost, on our District Attorney, Floyd Cunningham, who came to Tupelo immediately and has been actively in charge since the case first broke. We ask him to continue his searching investigation, so that no unwholesome tie-ups between officials and crooks will escape notice and escape justice. Let us go to the BOTTOM of this.

However, the duties and responsibilities of our honest officers are only half the story. The other half concerns the grave responsibility of every honest citizen to make himself available for jury service. If the officers are able to get all the facts but do not have a Grand Jury that is willing to indict, and a regular jury that cannot be bought, bribed, or intimidated, they will lose their case. YOU owe it to Pete Mitchell, YOU owe it to your community, to be willing to have your name placed in the jury box and to serve if called. Without this vital cooperation on YOUR part, this noble, young public servant has sacrificed himself in vain!—Tupelo Journal.

Orchestra To Appear March 20

UNIVERSITY, Miss. —The University of Mississippi will have the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Vladimir Golschmann, as the fourth number on its Artists Series program on March 20.

Founded 59 years ago, the St. Louis Symphony is the second oldest in the United States. Composed of 87 players, it is now enpoying one of its most successful concert tours.

Clifford Menz and Suzanne Fisher, Metropolitan Opera Company stars, will be the concluding number on the current series. They will be presented on April 13.

YACHTSMAN'S HOLIDAY

By Ruth Dewey Groves

George Van Buskirk, Jr., rich and bored, on his yacht in the Hudson River, is intrigued by the suggestion of his friend, Conrad Phelps, that they join a passing boatload of department store picnickers. George presumably is engaged to Audrey Hampton, but he secretly longs to find a girl who knows or cares nothing for his wealth or name. He and Conrad agree to call themselves George Bush and Con Palmer. They join the picnickers and meet Mary Hale and Trixie Anderson, salesgirls in the store. They talk about the yacht they passed in the river. George is drawn toward Mary, while Con and Trixie seem to get along famously. They leave for home aboard the excursion boat.

CHAPTER III

"THERE'S that beautiful yacht again," Mary said, as she ran across the deck to the rail, George following closely. "Don't you wish you could own it?"

A long pause ensued before George spoke. It was noticeable to Mary, who thought he had not heard.

"Don't you?" she asked again.

"There are other things more important than yachts and riches," he said in a serious tone.

"Meaning what?" Mary asked.

"Friendship and possibly love," he answered.

"Why can't you have both?" she suggested. She looked up at him admiringly, confident that a young man like George Bush could have almost anything he wanted, if he really wanted it hard enough.

"I suppose you can, but having one you are never sure of the other and vice versa," George asserted. "I'd like to be sure of one and take my chances with the other."

"Which one would you rather be sure of?"

"Mary don't you know?" he asked, looking into the depths of her eyes in the dim light. "Don't you realize—"

"It's that yacht out there," Mary said, as she pointed her finger in the direction of the craft

GEORGE VAN BUSKIRK, JR., heir to millions from an upper-bracket family wasn't quite sure just what he wanted at the moment. He was certain he did not want to give up Mary Hale unless he found that she was just another gold digger, playing a cold, calculating game with a naivete not at all uncommon among girls of her class.

His emotions had become confused from the attentions of the girls in his set. He could see nothing but pretended warmth toward him—especially in Audrey Hampton. There had been an understanding between the Van Buskirk and Hampton families about this alliance, ever since childhood. For a time George had resigned himself to what he believed was an inevitable match. But now, he rebelled against it—now that he felt sure Audrey was only interested in his money.

Yes, he would! He'd remain plain George Bush to her just to see if she could like him for himself alone. It would be refreshing now beyond a shadow of a doubt that wealth meant nothing to her.

Later, at the door of the brownstone-front rooming house where the girls lived, George lingered for a definite promise from Mary Hale that she would let him see her the following evening.

Con was patiently waiting at the foot of the steps, nervously puffing a cigaret. Trixie had already disappeared into the house after thanking the boys for the wonderful time she'd had.

Mary after slight hesitation, granted George's request, and it was also agreed that "if Con can arrange it through his friend," they would all pay a visit to the Van Buskirk yacht at some future date.

CON was thoughtful as he and George walked homeward.

"Don't get into this thing too deep, old man," he began. "After all, it's only a little bit of foolishness. The girl might take you seriously, and that would be something to worry about."

"What if she does?" George asked.

His attitude astonished Con. "Well, what if she does?" he fired back.

"I'd think about marrying her," George announced.

"You can't mean that!" Con said in horrified disbelief.

"Get it straight, Con. I'm serious. I was never so serious in all my life. That girl has done something to me. I can't explain. It's a feeling that you're living the prologue to a glorious experience."

Con was deeply worried. "I don't like this business, George," he cautioned. "You can't do this to Audrey to your family. Man, you've got obligations. You can't throw them away on a girl you've known less than ten hours."

"It was your bright idea in the first place."

"Yes, I know, but I didn't think it would make an invalid out of you. I think you're getting sick."

"You're wrong; I've never felt better in my life."

"In that case you ought to be intelligent enough to drop this before it's gone too far."

"I think a fellow's pretty lucky to fall in love with a girl like Mary Hale. Why, she's real. Her feet and her head are just where they belong."

"But not yours, by a long shot. Look here—you belong over on the other side of town, and this girl back where we left her. This love-me-for-myself-alone stuff is impossible for you. There's always the specter of your gold in the offing. It's too much to expect of a girl."

MARY HALE need not know for a while about me. I'd be just George Bush to her, until I was certain of her. Then I would confess."

"And if she were real, she'd give you the air. The chances are she'd swoon from the surprise she'd get."

"But I've got to know this girl—got to know whether or not she's a gold-digger like all the rest."

"I see. Audrey's shaken your faith to the very foundation is that it?"

"Yes," George told him. "From now on, I'm a man without a nickel to his name, but with a lot of ambition. So long, fellow. It's been awfully nice to have you around. I'll be seeing you."

"Well, see that you don't lose your ambition," was Con's parting shot.

George disappeared toward the palatial Van Buskirk penthouse and encountered the very person he had not wished to see.

DON'T TRY TO TREAT COUGHS WITH HOME-MADE REMEDIES

Coughs Are Danger Signs, Treat Them Accordingly

If you are suffering with a cough of long-standing, and do not know its cause, go to see your doctor immediately. You might have a serious ailment. Even coughs due to cold or exposure often lead to serious complications by breaking down your resistance.

For the latter type cough there is a medicine, compounded by a great scientist, fortified with both Vitamins "A" and "D," given to the world by a great laboratory and sold by leading druggists under the name of Mentho-Mulsion, at an all-time low price of 75c.

Although home remedies are sometimes effective, many of them have been proven merely superstition, so why take chances when Mentho-Mulsion is sold under an iron-clad guarantee of satisfaction or your money back by good druggists everywhere.—adv.

F. B. I. HOOVER SAYS A. A. A. IS AT FAULT

WASHINGTON — The Federal Bureau of Investigation, in a repor released today, concluded that ta January sharecropper demonstra tion in Southeastern Missouri wa a planned protest against econom ic conditions of sordidness and poverty which aggravated by the Federal Farm and Relief pro grams.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover submitted the report to Attorney General Frank Murphy, who re quested the investigation.

The FBI sustained complaints of demonstrators that they lived in unsatisfactory sanitary surround ings and received hardly the bar necessities of life, but it absolve landlords of charges of persecu tion.

The report found a few instance of violations of civil liberties, bu Merphy announced after studying the report that there appeared t be none warranting federal prose cution except, perhaps, the inter ception of a telegram to the dem onstrators' leader, Owen H. Whit field, a negro minister. The federal communications commission is in vestigating this, he said .

The report said the New Deal Soil Conservation program increas ed unemployment by decreasing the production of soil-depleting crops and increasing the planting of non soil-depleting types. Fewer laborers are needed to produce the non soil-depleting crops, it said.

The 1938 Agricultural Adjust ment Act allotted a greater share of benefits to sharecroppers and thereby encouraged farm owners to dismiss sharecroppers and hire them back as $1-a-day laborers the study said.

Also. the trend from sharecrop per to day laborer has been accel erated, the report said, by the government relief program. Under the sharecropper system, it con tinued, the landlord took more of an interest in seeing that his croppers were cared for in the winter period between crops.

"With the coming of the feder al relief program, the landlord saw the workers between crops, and therefore, a practice was adopted of substituting day laborers for sharecroppers and transferring the burden of caring for the laborers over the winter months to the relief agencies," the report said.

The FBI said, however, it found no evidence that any of the 1,- 161 demonstrators who camped a long two U. S. Highways in Mis souri from Jan. 10 to Jan. 13. had been evicted from farms, as was reported, although many had re ceived notices that they would have to vacate their share-holds.

These notices were not unusual, the report said, as Missouri law requires that sharecroppers be giv en 60 days' notice and owners cus tomarily serve such notice about Nov. 1 so they will be free to change workers or sell their land.

J. R. Butler, president of the Southern Tenant Farmers Union, said in Memphis, Tenn., the FBI's study was "unfair, inaccurate and incomplete."

The FBI report said the demon strators, under the leadership of Whitfield, camped by the highways to draw national attention to sor did living conditions. The report described these in detail but con tended that although many of the sharecroppers were ill-clad and ill fed, adequate relief supplies were available.

The landlords, the report said, did not take a "broad view from both sides of the question."

"The great majority had no con ception whatever," it said, "as to who was behind the movement and they based their complaints en tirely upon rumors and gossip which came to them and which they apparently did not under stand, nor have they yet been able to grasp the fact that the dem onstration was a protest against the economic system prevailing in the area."

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — J. R. But ler, president of the Southern Ten ant Farmers Union, charged today that the inquiry of the federal bu reau of investigation into the highway demonstrations of share croppers in Southeast Missouri was "unfair, inaccurate and incom plete."

Declaring that the investigation had been one-sided in favor of the landlords, Butler denied that the "sitdown strike" on the highways had been planned in advance as claimed in the FBI report , but rather had resulted spontaneously after evictions by landlords.

"I have said repeatedly and I ay again that the demontsration was the result of landlords being un fair to sharecroppers," Butler said. "The New Deal's relief and farm programs might have been partly to blame but the main part of it was the greed of landlords."

Butler asserted that he had "oodles and gobs" of evidence that many of the campers, who lived without shelter in the rain and snow for several days, were forced from their homes.

The tenant union president fur ther described as untrue the state ment in the FBI report that relief supplies for the demonstrators were adequate. He said that fami lies did not have sufficient food until the last days of the demon stration.

Ancient Farms Pride Of China

CHUNKING — On the rich Chengtu plain, where China's western agricultural area fades into mountainous Sikong, oranges and apples grow in areas not 50 miles apart, and in between flour ish rice, wheat and other agricul tural products. Natices call it Chi na's "garden of Eden."

The secret is in climatic and soil conditions. There is a year around growing season, just warm enough in the winter to permit corn and wheat to grow. There is a great depth of fertile soil, built up by years of constant irrigation and fertilized with the care that only a Chinese farmer can exer cise.

Pride of the Chinese farmers however, is the irrigation system, constructed during the Chin dy nasty, in 200 B. C. There are 130 dams along the Neichiang (inner river) and 150 dams along the Waichiang (outer river), built of egg-shaped gravel stones.

Library News

"Mein Kampf" by Adolf Hitler is now available at the library.

"This is an accurate translation, fully annotated, of a book which is likely to remain the most im portant political tract of our time, and which is now for the first time available in complete form to the American reader.—Here, then, in its entirety, for the American people to read and to judge for themselves, is the work which has sold in Germany by the millions, and which probably is the best evidence of the character, mind and spirit of Adolf Hitler and his government."

"Three Harbours" by F. van Wyck Mason is a rich, full-blood ed and authentic chronicle of the American Revolution. The three harbours are Boston, Norfolk and Bermuda. Planters, patriots, trad ers, soldiers, statesmen, toughs trollops move in an atmosphere redolent of tobacco fields, of gun powder, spices, and the tropical perfumes of the Bermuda nights.

"Seasoned Timbers" by Dorothy Canfield is a story as truly Ver mont as maple sugar and granite. She pictures her Vermont as sym bolic of an America where human values and freedom can stand against power and material advant age. Timothy Hulme finds himself much involved in a second-youth love affair.

CENTRAL EUROPE'S

Foreign armies, ready for a feast or a fight, thus were march ing across all Provinces of the now non-existant Czechoslovak Repub lic.

Hitler assumed his protectorate over the Czech Provinces on the anniversary of his triumphant en try into Vienna a year ago, when he formally proclaimed his absorp tion of his native Austria.

German troops entered the city of Prague to the hisses and catcalls of the people, and as they drew up in the Wenceslas square in the center of the city, the stirring strains of the Czech national anthem, sung by thou sands of people with teas run ning down their faces, rang in their ears.

Their entry meant the death of Czechoslovakia, but it was soon evident that the Czech people, who had fought long for liberty, until Woodrow Wil son sponsored it, after the world war, lived on.

The situation changed rap idly. During the night when the people first heard that Hitler was to be their "Protec tion," the city had been demor alized. Terror reigned.

By the time the advance guard of the Germans arrived, people began to come out in to the streets.

When they saw a German sol dier, some of them would put their hands before their faces in sign of horror and disgust and turn away. This was noted even in front of the German minority headquarters, where large groups of Germans gathered and shouted wildly in joy.

But the Czechs' attitude was one of white hot patriotism. They ga thered in the Wenceslay Square by thousands to sing their anthem.

Hundreds of times, in the streets groups of Czechs spontaneously burst into the anthem, interspers ing howls of rage, jeers and cries of "phooey" at the Germans.

Troops in the first contingent in cluded bicyclists, motorcyclists and anti-tank gun units. Then came light motorized units and many light tanks. German airplanes flew over the city.

By 6:30 a. m. EST two hours af ter the German occupation, the situation had become dangerous.

Czech police, who had wept as the Germans entered, feared an outbreak. As the German troops held their riot guns at the ready, the police cleared the streets. Mounted police rode up on the sidewalks. But the streets refilled as soon as they were emptied. Those who did not join crowds climber on top of street cars, the better to jeer the Germans.
